One hundred Scarlett Dolls designed by Mrs. T. Chalmer Bryant will make their debuts

Kathryn Grayburn

Friday evening as table decorations for the formal dinner highlighting the meeting of the Southeastern Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons.

The dolls, dressed in green velvet, are from the collection of the Women's Committee of the Atlanta Symphony Guild. They will be distributed as favors.

Mrs. Mason Lowance is president of the Women's Committee.

Mrs. John R. Lewis Jr. is chairman of social events honoring over 100 plastic surgeons and their wives attending this ninth annual meeting.

This session, at the Marriott Motor Hotel, marks the first time the meeting has been held in Atlanta.

Members of the entertainment committee include Mrs. William Schatten, Mrs. William Huger, Mrs. Edward Pound, Mrs. Carl Hartrampf, Mrs. William Hamm and Mrs. Charles Yarn.

The ladies have made miniature stairways, designed by Mrs. Lewis, and carpeted with orange velvet runners to match the feathers on the dolls' hats. The dolls will be placed on the stairways, surrounded by flowers in complementing hues.

In keeping with the "Gone With the Wind" theme of the dinner, none other than Butterfly McQueen, the inimitable "Prissy" from the motion picture, will assist in entertaining.

Festivities began Wednesday evening with an informal cocktail-reception and buffet dinner. On Thursday Dr. Gustave Aufricht of New York City, a plastic surgeon of international renown, will address Society members and their wives at a luncheon. Billy Butterfield's band will play for the Friday evening dinner dance.

While their husbands are attending scientific sessions, the ladies will tour some of Atlanta's elegant homes, visit the High Museum of Art and the Decorative Arts Center,
